

Abstract by Dan Abernethy - The development and implementation of farmer tools designed to support genetic gain and breeding decisions

In recent years the Australian Dairy Herd Improvement Scheme (ADHIS) has placed a greater emphasis on providing extension and education messages to farmers to support their understanding and utilisation of Australian Breeding Values (ABVs) in bull selection decisions.