

Abstract by Xavier Bourrigan - Analysis of the accuracy of protocols in robotic milking herds for estimation of 24-hour fat and protein percent to determine a new protocol

The evolution of the number of farms equipped with automatic milking systems (AMS) and the difficulties in carrying out milking recording (cost, use of sampling equipment) require to examine ways to improve and to simplify protocols.